

Remarks

No new subject matter has been added by these amendments. More particularly, the claims covers a model specific method of the type shown by the CMP example beginning on page 85 of the application, which example relates specifically to model predicted values. Attention is also drawn to page 93, line 2 et seq., where specific mention is made of a model constituted by an algorithm.

The concept of the model comprising a function or an algorithm is also to be found in the final paragraph on page 35. An algorithm is also discussed on page 57, line 11 and at numerous subsequent points in the text.
